Transponder Patches

Plytex transponder patches are available in various sizes, round or rectangular. Thanks to the self-adhesive properties of the patches, silicone-wrapped RFID transponders are easy to position on the patch. Then they can be sealed with a standard heat seal press on any garment.

The Plytex transponder patches are resistant to industrial washing and available from stock. They are produced on roll or continuous paper (for a dot matrix printer), depending on the order.