More and more companies issue ID cards to their employees and many of them with a picture on it. With the more severe security at the workplace people must be recognized but where do you put that ID card?

With the pocket ID holders that are permanently heat sealed to a piece of work wear this is not a question anymore.

One side of the pocket ID holder remains unsealed which leaves an opening for inserting and removing the ID card before washing.

Pocket ID holders are available in various sizes and various designs (portrait or landscape).

There is a Pocket ID holder for any requirement.

Even sealed on the inside of a uniform when used in combination with a RFID card it is a great place to store the ID card without losing it.

Ready Pocket ID holders are delivered with a minimum quantity of 50 pieces.
